

poetic ghost find it list

can you find...

- [ ] a person who works here? If you have a question, they will help you.
- [ ] a drawing of clothing designs for a garment worker to sew?
- [ ] flowing white fabric for a garment worker to sew into clothing?
- [ ] a measuring tape to make clothing big or small?
- [ ] 41 spools of thread in one artwork?
- [ ] a sewing machine for garment workers who use their hands and feet?
- [ ] paper clothing sewn together with black and red thread?
- [ ] a glass shirt?
- [ ] a button?
- [ ] glass artwork that looks like it moves?
- [ ] a pencil? Be an artist! What could you make out of glass? Draw your own ideas on the back of this sheet and sign your name.

did you know...

...Cassandra Straubing, the artist, is a teacher and an artist. She teaches her students about glass art. She shows them how to make glass art in a kiln, which is a big oven used to melt glass into new shapes.

For this show, Cassandra made molds, or containers, in the shape of shirts. Then she heated glass inside the molds in a kiln. When it cooled it became glass clothing. Cassandra's glass is folded and pleated on the top, just like a real wrinkly shirt, and smooth on the bottom.

...Babette Pinsky designs clothing. She draws on paper what the clothing will look like: straight, curved, smooth, or ruffled. A garment worker uses fabric and a sewing machine to turn Babette's drawings into real clothing. Babette and Cassandra worked together to create this exhibit; Babette drew the clothing that Cassandra turned into glass shirts.

visitor guide

- Respect the work of others by only touching items on the special touching table. Touch carefully and leave objects on the table. Tell someone next to you how the glass and fabric look and feel.
- Respect other visitors by listening when others are talking, staying with your group, and moving carefully so you do not bump into any art.
- Ask questions! Tell us what you think! We love to answer questions and hear your ideas.